THIRD SUNDAY OF EASTER

Today's Scripture Readings

FIRST READING: Brought before the Sanhedrin, the apostles give witness to Jesus Christ.
(Acts 5:27-32, 40b-41).

PSALM: I will praise you, Lord, for you have rescued me (Psalm 30).

SECOND READING: In his vision John sees all in heaven and on earth give honor and glory to the one on the throne and to the Lamb (Revelation 5:11-14).

GOSPEL: Jesus appears to the disciples by the sea of Tiberias (John 21:1-19 [1-14]).

LITURGICAL REFLECTION: GOD'S OVERFLOWING KINDNESS

The superabundance of God's kindness ties all of today's readings together. Especially when life overwhelms us, the Lord provides all we need, and then some. In the Acts of the Apostles, Peter takes the lead when facing the Sanhedrin. We might expect the man who denied Jesus to crumble under the imposing glare of the high priest. Instead, the Holy Spirit helps him testify to his faith in Jesus Christ. What Peter had lacked before, courage and conviction, God provides in abundance. Similarly, today's Gospel shows Jesus providing a surplus of fish for the disciples. They have no luck fishing until the Lord intercedes. Jesus supplies an almost ridiculous number of fish, and he cooks it for them, too. As our reading from Revelation affirms, the overflowing riches of God require constant praise. Countless creatures—"everything in the universe"—cry out to honor the Lord, forever and ever.

Stewardship Reflections: In the Gospel we find the Apostles dejected and discouraged. Poor Peter decides to throw in the towel on the whole disciple thing and go back to his old way of life, declaring, "I'm going fishing." The other apostles decide to follow him. But Jesus is with them in their "back slide." He is waiting for them on the shore and even makes them breakfast. This constant process of turning back to the Lord is the essence of a stewardship way of life.

Good stewards are not necessarily those who have mastered some perfect formula for the giving of time, talent and treasure. Good stewards simply have more confidence in the goodness of the Lord than fear of their own failure. They get back up after each fall. And little by little, good stewards find themselves becoming like the "after Easter Disciples." Saint Peter and the apostles rejoiced in being persecuted for living as Jesus' disciples. Are you as "guilty" as they were? Can you be convicted of feeding and tending his sheep?" (Stewardship Reflection, Catholic Stewardship Consultants, Inc. 2022/04/5)

Families and the Gospel

John 21: 1-19

Jesus invited the disciples to "Come and have breakfast." At this beach breakfast and the Last Supper Jesus teaches us meals should be more than eating. Family meals are opportunities to share prayer, listen to each other's stories, understand and support one another.
